

NAPLES CAPTURED BY U. S. 5TH ARMY; CITY REPORTED CLEAR OF GERMANS; NAZI ARMY STILL INTACT, BUT ON RUN

Enemy Abandons Italy's Second Largest Port Only After Destroying Harbor Installations and Everything of Military Value Within The City Itself.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Oct. 1.—(INS)—Troops of the U. S. Fifth Army today captured the city of Naples, second largest port in Italy and southern defense garrison of Rome. A special communique late this afternoon said: "Troops of the Fifth Army have entered Naples. The city is reported clear of Germans."

A few minutes later, this announcement was made: "Presumably our troops occupied the city immediately after the German evacuation."

The German army still was intact but on the run, and abandoned Naples to overwhelming superiority only after destroying its harbor installations and everything of military value within the city itself.

In the last hours, Nazi Field Marshal Albert Kesselring depended entirely upon moderate rearguard action and extensive demolitions to hold up the Allied advance.

Earlier bulletins announced capture of Avellino, important road junction 28 miles east of Naples, and the fall of the harbor of Torre Annunziata.

Expect 2,000 Employees
To Be Laid Off Soon

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 1.—About 2000 union employees at the Johnsville plant of the Brewster Aeronautical Corp., near Hathers, will be laid off within the next three weeks, union officials there predicted yesterday, as a result of the British Government's cancellation of its bomber contract with the firm.

Word of the expected layoffs came on the heels of a similar move by the company at its plant in Long Island City, where nearly 1100 workers were dropped Wednesday.

Of the 6800 men and women workers at the big new assembly plant, at Johnsville, officials pointed out, nearly 4000 were engaged in operations on the Buccaneer fighter-bombers the company had been building for Britain.

Some of these employees, it was explained, will be absorbed on assembly lines for the Navy's Vought-Corsair fighter, production of which is just now getting into full swing at Brewster. The remainder will be out of jobs, union officials reported.

Value of B and C Coupons Cut To Two Gallons

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—The value of B and C gasoline coupons was cut to two gallons last night by the Office of Price Administration, which at the same time increased the weekly ration value of A coupons to two gallons in the 17 State on the Atlantic Seaboard.

The value of A-6 coupons, which still will be redeemable for three gallons each, was increased by moving their expiration date up from November 22 to November 8, thus reducing by two weeks the period over which they will have to be "stretched."

The coupon adjustment was based on new gasoline allocations made public today by Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes, the War Petroleum Administrator. Under the new "parity basis" allotment, Eastern civilian consumers, including farmers, truck, taxi and bus operators, are granted an increase of 37,000 barrels a day, bringing the total available for PAW District No. 1 to 379,000 barrels a day. District 2, comprising the Midwest, suffered an allocation drop from 480,000 to 467,000 barrels a day, while District 3, the Southwest, was increased to 145,000 barrels.

LATEST NEWS BULLETINS

Landon Opposed to "Blank Check for President"

TOPEKA, Kans.,—Alfred M. Landon opposed today the granting of a "blank check" to President Roosevelt for handling America's postwar foreign affairs.

In a radio address in which he spoke against an American-British military alliance, Landon said that now is the time for Americans to be "hard-headed, realistic, fair and plain-spoken if a lasting peace is to be established."

"But," the former GOP presidential candidate said, "our efforts are being weakened both at home and abroad by the President's mismanagement of our foreign affairs and by the hallelujah policy that America will clothe, feed, educate and rebuild the world."

"Any administration with a record so unsympathetic to democratic processes and customs as Mr. Roosevelt's has been in domestic affairs must not be trusted with any more blank checks either at home or in foreign affairs."

Landon said that by making a military alliance, however temporary, with one country, America abandons her traditional impartial role of peacemaker and becomes a partner in "The Imperialism of Great Britain."

"Before doing that we have a right to know what Britain's future plans are beyond the fact that she intends to hold her own," he said.

Every Effort To Be Made To Rid State of Fire
Menaces

A S K S CO-OPERATION

Fire Prevention Week opens in Pennsylvania, Sunday, and will continue through October 3th.

Every effort is to be made this year to make careful inspection of business places, rooming houses, apartments and school and public buildings, as a means of eliminating fire hazards and conditions which might result in conflagrations.

Edward A. McVaine, inspector of State Department of Labor and Industry, today said that he would co-operate with local fire chiefs, school and other local authorities in making inspections.

With conditions as they exist at the present time, inspections are planned so as to eliminate anything which might impair the war effort, and to make every effort to prevent loss of life by fire.

Residents, proprietors of business places and janitors of public buildings are asked to play their part by cleaning cellars, attics and other places used as storage, as it is often in such places that fires originate.

NEWSPAPER MAN TELLS ABOUT WAR

John W. Duffield Says Axis Powers Are Weaker And Allies Growing Stronger

WAR'S END SHORTENED

"Now, in the Fall of 1943, the tide of the present war has turned. The Axis powers are weaker, and the Allied Powers are infinitely stronger. Every fight has been won by the Allies during the past year. The Axis is now on two wheels, the way John W. Duffield, New York Times correspondent, summed up the war when he spoke to the Bristol Rotary Club in the Elks' Home yesterday afternoon.

"Italy is out of the war now, and the downfall of Mussolini is a prediction of the downfall of the other two scoundrels. The score is one down and two to go," Duffield said.

"The War has been shortened by at least a year with the defeat of Italy. American troops are now hundreds of miles nearer Berlin."

"Hitler made three gigantic blunders which will cost him the victory. First, his failure to invade Great Britain after Dunkirk. Second, his invasion of Russia. Third, his eagerness of Japan to attack the United States."

"Japan, because of surprises, gained an early advantage, and the geographical location was in her favor. But her early successes have only postponed the day of accounting. Her murderous flag will be hauled down. She has sown the wind and she will reap the whirlwind. She started this war with the United States and we will finish it."

"The skies over Asia will be black with our planes. The paper cities of Japan will be blown off the face of the map. Japan has had to scatter her forces and as a result she is no longer strong at any point."

"Hitler is no longer the proud speaker. Germany now stands on the defensive. Her oil supplies are low. There are shortages in all her much needed materials of war. And the radio in Germany shows that the morale of the Germans is much lower than at any time during the war."

"Every man must give his toil, his work, his efforts, and his money to remove this curse from the face of the earth," Duffield concluded.

A very good attendance was on hand to hear the talk, including several visitors. A special welcome was paid to Rotarian J. C. Schmidt, Sr., newly-elected Burgess of the Borough.

REGISTRANTS FROM SECTION EXAMINED FOR ARMED SERVICE

Grand Farewell Accorded Entire Group Leaving For Examinations

A total of approximately 150 young men, who face in the near future training in the U. S. army, navy, coast guard and marine corps, are in Philadelphia today, undergoing physical examinations that will prove their fitness for such types of service.

This was the first occasion on which the grand farewell was accorded by local groups when the men left for examinations, the usual practice being to bid them good-bye to the accompaniment of band music, and by bestowal of gifts, when they leave for actual training. But by the previous method those entering the army received the send-off, as the men entering the other service branches left at various times and in small groups.

Today was also the first occasion on which the Bristol high school band appeared in public under the direction of a woman leader. Mrs. Eleanor Kovinski, the new musical director at Bristol high school, was in charge of the band members from the high school this morning, and lead the youthful musicians in such selections as Washington Post March, R. M. B. March, Our Director, Activity, Bands and Banners. Then as the train pulled into the station the familiar notes of The Star Spangled sounded. Mrs. Kovinski, a graduate of West Chester State Teachers College, was a member of the faculty at McVeytown last year.

In addition to relatives and friends of the men who were present, the "36 for Victory" group passed cigarettes and chewing gum to the men. The American Legion members of Robert W. Bracken Post were likewise in attendance.

The men who are accepted for army service are granted three weeks furlough before starting training, while the period for the navy, coast guard and marine corps group is shorter.

WHAT OUR BOYS ARE DOING TO WIN THE WAR

FORT MYERS, Fla., Oct. 1.—Sgt. John R. Potter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Potter, 317 Wood street, Bristol, Pa., has been selected to remain at the Central Instructor's School at Buckingham Army Air Field as an instructor.

The CIS, as the instructor's school is known, standardizes teaching methods and practices at the six flexible gunnery schools operated by the Army Air Forces. All gunnery instructors must go through the CIS before they are qualified to instruct student gunners.

Experiments are constantly being conducted in the CIS here to improve the methods of instruction on the basis of reports received from men who have been in combat. After a period of service as instructors, most of these men will be released for combat duty.

Before he reported for the course at the Central Instructor's School here, Sgt. Potter was an instructor at the Army Air Forces Flexible Gunner School at Tyndall Field, Fla. Now he has an even more important part in the essential job of training gunners for the turrets of Uncle Sam's huge bombers.

He entered the Army 11 months ago, having formerly been an aircraft mechanic.

FEDERAL INVADERS

Reports from key states indicate that hordes of New Deal federal officeholders have been sent in to bolster the anticipated tumble in President Roosevelt's vote in the next national election.

New Jersey reports, according to the New Jersey Taxpayers Association, that the number of Federal payrollers has increased to 65,000 compared to only 13, 500 state workers. Ohio, which has 25,000 state employees, is saddled with over 99,000 Government workers; Pennsylvania with 215,000. Other key sections report large increases. And still they come.

Established agencies are adding to their staffs almost daily, new agencies are being created, apart from the war, spreading their potential tentacles across the nation. Local self-government is being undermined.

Almost the words of the Founding Fathers, who wrote the Declaration of Independence are apt today as they were when written:

"He has erected a multitude of new offices, and sent hither swarms of officers to harass our people and eat out their substance."

In fairness, the question naturally arises, will the New Deal dare to use these millions of Government employees for Fourth Term purposes. And the answer to that is found in the report of the special election investigating committee of the Senate in 1938.
The three Democratic senators and one Republican made the following report:

"The committee believes that funds appropriated by the Congress for the relief of those in need and distress have been in many instances diverted from these high purposes to political ends."

Old dogs perform the same old tricks.

AFTER THE WAR

Living in the budding stages of the age, most persons lack the perspective to grasp the tremendous trials being made in action. There have been some practical developments lately, so close to home that they should make clear what the post-war period is going to bring in air transportation.

American Airlines, for instance, applied recently to the Civil Aeronautics Board for authority to establish a New York-Boston-London service and also a Chicago-Detroit-Boston-London route. Northwest Airlines has an application on file for a trans-Pacific route to Tokyo.
Other airlines probably will have their application for service to new fields on file within the next two months.

The day is not far off when citizens of many American cities may drive out to their airports evenings to watch the giant Panam express roar in and out. And they may see their relatives and friends board that plane to land in France's capital city within twenty-four hours.

Today, the Army and the Navy are shuffling across the oceans.
Tomorrow, it will be the civilians.

Today's Quiet Moment (By the Rev. James R. Galley) Pastor Bristol Presbyterian Church

Almighty God, by Whose hand all things were made that are made, we thank Thee this day for thy sovereignty; for the fact that Thou art above all things, and that though man struggles and fights to see whom is the stronger, Thou art still above all things, and capable of interference in the affairs of men at any time. We are grateful for such a God, Whose hand of creation is not shortened, and whose ability to save is never lessened. We are grateful for the opportunity and the privilege of committing ourselves unto Thee. Take us, O God, and supply our needs. UTZ MAKES BOW AS HIGH SCHOOL COACH TOMORROW

Will Pilot Bristol Eleven In Game Against George School

HAS BEEN ASSISTANT

Practice Sessions Spent In Ironing Out Faults of Last Week

"Charlie" Utz makes his bow as head coach of the Bristol High School football team, tomorrow afternoon, as the Bunnies line up against the George School eleven on the latter's field, near Newtown.

Utz relieves Clarence Bartholomew who has been inducted into the army and will report to Fort Dix, Monday. Utz was former assistant to Bartholomew and was in charge of the junior varsity team. Assisting Utz now is Jack Thompson, Radcliffe street.

Coach Utz held the usual practice sessions this week and most of the time was spent in ironing out the faults of last Friday night's game with Trenton Catholic. Although Bristol won, 6-0, several faults were noticeable and these should not happen against George School.

The Red and Gray was having difficulty in getting the backfield to click with the passes coming from center and the result was that several of Mandlo's passes went to the backfield with no one laying a hand on them, the ball rolling back for large losses.

Lack of punch when close to the goal line prevented the Bristol boys from registering a second touchdown against Trenton Catholic. The localities had the ball on the Trenton seven with four downs to make it but failed. Coach Utz drilled his charges on more power plays when close to enemy territory.

But despite the mistakes, the Bunnies appeared to be in the best of form, especially in blocking. It was this blocking that enabled Joe Elmer to get off on his 55-yard dash for the only touchdown of the game. It was noticeable that Joe Centonzi took out two Catholic players on the play which enabled Elmer to get by the line of scrimmage. On several other plays, the taking out of Trenton players enabled the Bristol backs to run back the Trenton kicks for good gains.

One thing Bristol was outstanding in against Catholic was its kicking. Marvin Collins did most of the booting against the Jersey team and his toe kept pushing back the Jersey boys when they came in Bristol territory. When Collins wasn't kicking, either Johnson and Fiorelli were and they also had the same results.

The passing by Oriola was exceptionally well. One was completed for a 20-yard gain when it appeared certain he was doomed. Another was completed for a first down but the receiver, Keyes, fumbled and Trenton recovered, while two others barely escaped the outstretched hands of a receiver. One of these missed by Len Fisher would have resulted in another touch down.

Couch Utz is undecided as to whom will be in his starting lineup but feels that the boys who started last week will draw the same assignments.

This is the first time a Bristol eleven has faced a George School team on the gridiron. Reports received at Bristol show that the George Schoolers have a heavier team than the localities but the Bunnies are discounting this because Trenton Catholic had a heavy team but still it was Bristol who did the pushing around.

SPORTSMEN'S BRIEFS

BY JOE ELBERSON

Best fish stocking news of 1943... Silver Lake was stocked with 900 largemouth bass, Wednesday afternoon, marking the first bass stocking here in the past few years. The fish, about two inches in length, were sent by the Fish Commission from the Pleasant Mount Hatchery. Another 900 bass were planted in the Canal between Bristol and New Hope on the same day.

On Monday of this week Silver Lake was also stocked with 500 yellow perch. To the Canal and Idaline Lake were also consigned yellow perch, and, in addition, the Canal was stocked with suckers.

The Tobieken Creek in upper Bucks County was recently stocked by the Commission with 1000 bass.

Local fishermen will no doubt be out in force this Sunday at Silver Lake when the Bristol Fish & Game Protective Association will conduct a contest for the biggest game fish caught in the Lake between seven o'clock in the morning and seven o'clock in the evening. A suitable prize will be given the winner. The contest is open to everyone who has a 1943 Pennsylvania license.

Hunters are buying their licenses faster than last year, according to one local issuing agent, Auto Boys, Mill street. They reported selling 150 licenses during the first week.

The dog field trial season got underway last Sunday when trials were held by the Garden State Beagle Club at Mt. Laurel, N. J.

"Keystone Boots" was out in front last year when 5 derby trials were won and 2 all-age trials taken.

Trials will be held this Sunday by the Central Jersey Beagle Club at the Sunny Bray Country Club, located between Trenton and Yardville. The winner of the 13" class will run against the winner of the 15" class for an absolute winner's stake of $30. This will be in addition to the regular prizes for the winners of the two classes.

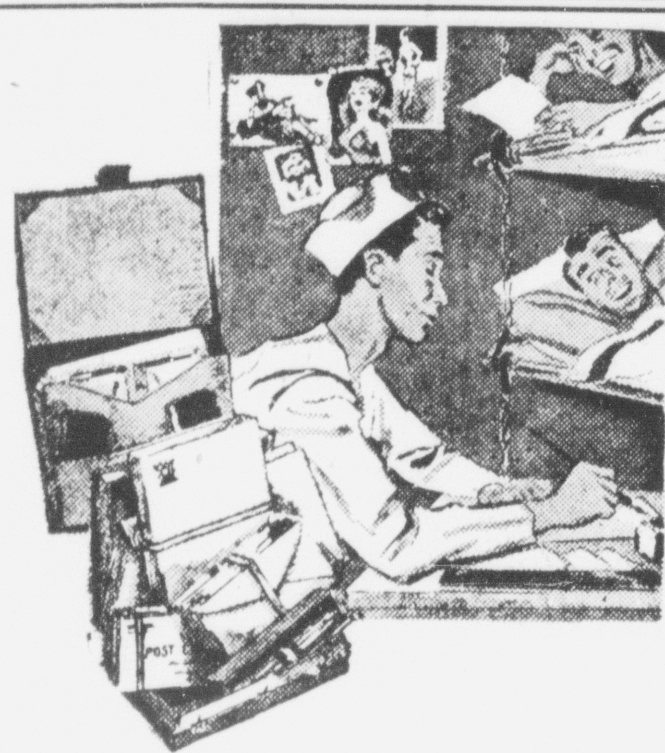

On October 10th, trials will be held by the South Jersey Beagle Club at Cressen, N. J. On the 17th, the trials will be back to the Sunny Bray Country Club, and also on the 24th.

Most hunters who were out for the opening of duck season last Saturday did fairly well. Kills were made along the Delaware and the Neshaminy Creek. Hunters agree, however, that the best part of the season will be much later when the flight ducks hit this section in the very late fall.

N. Rubino, Bristol, and M. DiCicco, Tullytown, were out Saturday on the River. Both brought ducks back. Glen Cobleigh, Cornwells Heights, was successful on the first day also. Harry Ratcliffe and Guy Nonini, Bristol, both did well. R. D. Evans, Langhorne, had fair luck at the Penn Manor Club. The first day was otherwise marked by the very few hunters who got out.

"Bill" Warner, local trapshooting ace, called me from the Anchor Yacht Club, Tuesday afternoon. He asked me to come right over to view a very interesting sight on the Delaware. This is what I saw: The dirty old Delaware River literally belching up thousands of dead and dying fish. Pollution of some kind from somewhere is undoubtedly the answer. The surface appeared to be covered with a film. I stood on the landing at the Club and as the tide moved up more fish passed than I ever seen at one time in my life. There were carp and suckers, catfish and eels, white and yellow perch, golden shiners and minnows, bass and sunfish. Some of them would easily weigh several pounds. Some were quite dead and floated along with their bellies up. Others went skittering and skimming crazily along the top of the water and then rolled over to be carried along lifeless by the tide.

This lad above is a good sailor... because he's happy. He's writing home on stationery he received in his Christmas package. Morale is the answer to his happiness... high morale created by the thoughtfulness of the folks on the home front. Do your shopping now and get your serviceman's package in the mail...
